New Packaging from Clean Ones

Clean Ones general purpose disposable gloves come in 4 different materials: Latex, powder-free latex, latex-free vinyl and latex-free nitrile. These disposable gloves are ideal for cross merchandising in cleaning, automotive or gardening departments, according to company officials.

Clean Ones has created new packaging for its line of 100-count general purpose gloves. The updated packaging comes in easy-to-read layouts with vibrant accent colors. Each new package has its own distinctive color to differentiate it from its neighbor. Also, the packaging has both English and Spanish text so that it can be easily marketed. The 100-count bilingual packages of general purpose gloves can be housed within their own display case, which also can be used as a shipping case.
