CLEAN ONES DISPLAY PROGRAM Eye Catching Merchandising Vehicles

Portland, OR – October 27, 2009 – Clean Ones is offering a comprehensive display program to assist with Spring and Fall in store promotions during those 2010 cleaning seasons. The display program can be used for all the boxed and bagged household gloves that clients carry. The display program is also available for the indispensable disposable vinyl and latex gloves.

Displays are available in several options. Within the partitioned power panel option, Clean Ones offers either a six or nine cell display to ensure maximum visibility of the product which easily shows assorted sizes within a glove line. For that panel selection, there is a floor stand system that can be added for clients who prefer this method to the power wing (hanging end cap display) option. As for the non-sized disposable gloves, Clean Ones offers their gravity feed panel. Gravity feed panels offer more overall printed space to call out the display panel's contents and ensure increased impulse buying.

The floor stand system and power panel as an end cap system is an affordable way to ship, assemble, and display product in any store. The easy to assemble floor stand coordinates with either the celled or gravity feed panels and offers clients flexibility to place retail displays in different locations.

Clean Ones Corporation has focused on the retail glove business for nearly 25 years. All Clean Ones products are made with superior quality and are backed by a 100% Satisfaction Guarantee. All of their products consistently come directly from the same suppliers. They have established specifications that must be met by the factories. Gloves from Clean Ones are tested extensively by third party labs and certified to the highest standards in the industry.

All Clean Ones items are available in private label, branded or a highly successful combined program. Clean Ones prides themselves on the quality of their product, service and expertise in the industry.
